

Caregiving

Caring for an ailing loved one can be stressful, rewarding and exhausting. Leslie can help you make space in your life to feel what you need to feel, and find balance to take care of yourself, while you care for someone else.